

Transfer Credit Resource Site Instructions

Students and academic advisors use the Transfer Credit Resource Site on the home page of UAOnline to query courses from within the UA-system and outside the UA-System that have been evaluated for transfer credit. However, results from the query are unofficial, so the student will not have an official transcript evaluation until the transfer credits have been sent from the transfer institution to UAF's Office of the Registrar and Admissions.

There is no need to login since the Transfer Credit Resource Site is on the home page.

Choose University of Alaska Fairbanks to determine how transfer credits are evaluated for UAF.

Select the state or province from the dropdown menu.

Select the university or college from the dropdown menu.

The list of courses that have been evaluated for transfer credits will appear, but the results are unofficial since the courses listed may have changed and therefore, may not be equivalent to UAF courses anymore. Once a student has taken a course and sent the transfer institution's transcript to UAF, the course will be officially evaluated and determined to be equivalent to a UAF course or not.

If a school or course is not listed on the Transfer Credit Resource Site, it's typically because a student has not had a course evaluated from that school for transfer credit to UAF. Students who are exploring taking a course not listed on the resource site should acquire a syllabus and course description from the transfer institution and contact the Office of Admissions and Registrar to have the course evaluated by the academic department associated with that subject.
